THE PHILADELPHIA CENTENNIAL .- The Scientiffe American of January 24th, on its first page, pictures the one thousand feet tower which it is proposed to erect in that city, and compares it with the Pyramids, Cologne Cathedral, Strasbourg Minster, St. Paul and St. Peter's, Bunker Hill Monument, Trinity in New York, and St. Mark's in Philadelphia, as metres of the enormous elevation. They all shrink wooderfully, and in the same degree exalt the tower. The American says, " within the coming two years no monument of so imposing a nature, or of so unique and original conception, can be constructed of any other material flam iron; nor, indeed, can we kepe to erect a fabric more completely national in every festure. Not only then shall we commemo-rate our birthday by the iolitest structure ever built by man, but an edifice designed by American engi-poers, reared by American mechanics, and constructed of material purely the produce of American soil."

[For the GARRYEL] MR. EDITOR .- Our precious nerves "indirectly in terested" would inquire if the new Volunteer Company composed of English, Americans, and Germans chain for twenty-four hours with solitary confinement? A grave thought for a man with pure for elgo blood in his veins. Would it not be better to obtain a small loan of five or ten million dollars from some undiscovered gold diggings, where gold can be picked up in rock form and be obtained at a less rate for very valuable paper with other men's sugar cane as collaterals. This amount would furnish a small fron clad navy, which would annihilate the Nettie Merrill, besides inflate every thing to bursting point and give foreigners that have been led into sugar plantations and Real Estate an oppor tunity to sell out and escape before the deluge.
